Dear Dr. Suchlicki:

Thank you for your invitation to be the luncheon keynote speaker at Miami University's seminar on "The Role of Intelligence in National Security" in February. As much as I would like to be with your group, I cannot make a commitment at this time and must decline. However, the Agency will be well represented by as one of the participants.

I wish you a very successful program.

Sincerely,

Robert M. Gates
Deputy Director of Central Intelligence

Dear Mr. Gates:

We are organizing a seminar on "The Role of Intelligence in National Security" at the University of Miami on February 17, 1988. The seminar will highlight the role of intelligence in our society and the importance of the Agency as the central focus of that role. Participants will include members of the academic community as well as Academic Coordinator from the Agency's Public Affairs office. See enclosed program.

We would like very much for you to be our luncheon keynote speaker. The audience will consist of faculty and students as well as members of the business community and the media. We would like you to discuss a topic related to the theme of intelligence and national security.

If you could join us, we would be honored with your presence.

Sincerely,
